Different festivals are presented throughout the year in Scotland. The most famous of these is the Edinburgh Festival, which shows Scotland's best music and dancing. A major part of this is the great Tattoo, the main feature of which is the marching of the Massed Bands. Similarly the Eastern Hills band and orchestra help in the presentation of many activities during the year. They play at the Christmas program, the plays, and the Big "E" Beauty Pageant. They lend their spirit to the pep rallies, homecoming, football games, and Ranch Day program.

Ranch Day is celebrated during the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show every February. Just as highlanders wear their traditional kilts at festivals, so Eastern Hills Highlanders wear their western clothes on Ranch Day. The Big "E" Beauty Pageant shows Eastern Hills' talent and beauty, just as the festivals of Scotland show the Highlander talent and spirit in music and dancing. More features of Hills include the Tartan-Clan program to promote the sale of the paper and annual, the Doll Show, Y-Teen project to collect food for needy families, and the class picnics and graduation ceremonies. These features add the extra touches to the year and for several hundred the finishing touches to three years of high school.

Package Plan, Howdy Dance Open Year

To encourage the package plan sales, the Tartan and Clan staffs presented a kick-off program in which cost of the publications and procedure by which students could make purchases was explained.

The six dwarfs sing, "Hi ho, Hi ho, It's home from school we go, We've got our plan, And now the Clan, Is ours to show," during the Tartan-Clan package program.

The old woman's shoe is being prepared by some of Mother Goose's assistants.

Micki Bodine, Howdy Queen, watches Mr. Johnson as he crowns Johnny Norman, Howdy King.

"Ah, Jim, it's so nice to sing with you," says Rusty Wright to Jim Hart, who entertained at the Howdy Dance.

Tartan-Clan Package Plan Program and the Howdy Dance are two activities which add to the fast moving pace of a new year. With Grimm's fairy tale characters as guides, the annual and newspaper staffs told the student body that "All like The Tartan, All like the Clan, Get them both together in the package plan."

Eddie's Father Has Courtship Problem

Eddie's father, Rusty Wright, meets for the first time Eddie's good friend and "future mother," played by Patty Groody.

A son can be a father's best friend if the father isn't a widower and the son, as well as everyone around, isn't trying to arrange a wife for him. As Miss Alzora Jeffords, director, said, "This situation in 'The Courtship of Eddie's Father' provided the funniest play ever staged at Eastern Hills."

Mr. Corbett, Eddie's father (played by Rusty Wright), had many friends at the office, apartment, and grocery store. All were helping him, in their own ways, to find a suitable wife.

Because his father was going to marry someone else, Eddie ran away from camp. Eddie wanted Miss Madden, a long time friend, to become his mother, but his father didn't feel the same way. When both of them met at the camp because they were looking for Eddie, they realized they were meant for each other.

A nosey neighbor, played by Patti Braker, gives Mr. Corbett some advice about a certain friend that would make the perfect wife.

If it weren't quite so unusual, Eddie (Mickey Morrow) could be begging, "Please be my mother!"

Makeup is just one problem that faces H. A. Schafer as curtain time nears for one of the performances of "The Courtship of Eddie's Father."

Exes Return for Homecoming

"The Hijacked Hive," one of the most unusual jobs of decoration for the annual homecoming-home room contest, won first place. Coach Tommy Runnells' home room was responsible for the yellow-jacket hive.

Mr. Ronnie Martin added a touch of his professional trumpet to the Thursday night pep rally.

EH cheerleaders stand aside with Sgt. Ronald Fontenot, as the football captains crowned the '64 Football Queen.

Cheerleaders from Meadowbrook and Handley Junior Highs gave EH support, thus demonstrating the backing of area residents.

Angela Meer Reigns as Queen

Halftime of the Arlington Heights game brought the public presentation of the 1964 Football Queen, Angela Meer.

Coming Home Queen, Mrs. Pat Martin, was escorted on the field as part of the ceremony by Bobby Dillard and Gary Granger, Eastern Hills graduates.

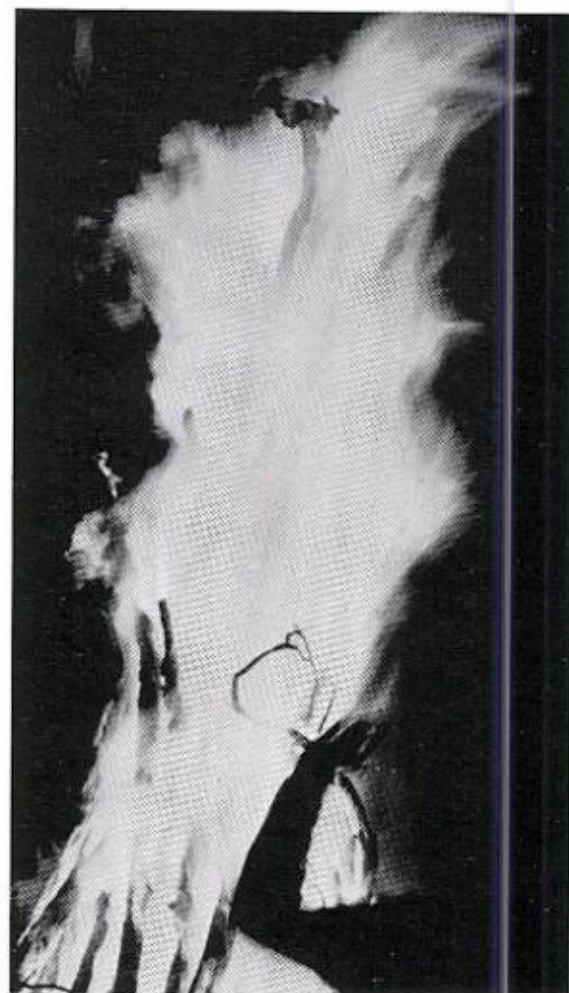

Mr. Kurt Meer escorts his daughter onto the field at the 1964 Homecoming game.

Poems, Yells, Song Highlight Rallies

Besides learning new yells, cheerleaders must learn the art of "falling" just right. One false move might lead to a catastrophe. Rusty Wright and Candi Cantrell have learned their lessons well.

Bonfires are usually considered lucky; this one didn't quite live up to the reputation. It was one of the best, but the Highlanders fell to the North Side Steers the next night.

"Cheerleader Johnson" leads students in some of the best yells of the year.

Cheerleaders, the majorettes and band, Coach Graves, and Mr. Johnson highlighted this year's pep rallies. After working all summer, cheerleaders, majorettes and the band planned and presented outstanding shows. One wonders what an EH pep rally would be without Coach Graves' spirited poems and Mr. Johnson's yells. Here's a special poem just for the Clan.

"One last verse about our weekly pep rally, The poems made most people sick at their bally. Poor ole Coach Graves, I tried pretty hard, But it was clear to all that I was no bard. I'm sure that the poems didn't win us a game; They kept me out of the Poets' Hall of Fame. I thank you all for the patience you had. They weren't 'pretty funny; I know they were pretty bad."

Among the awards for being cheerleader is meeting cheerleaders from other schools. Highlander yell leaders meet their counterparts from Carter Riverside.

Santa Comes to Grandma's

Frolicking playgirl bunnies romp behind stage under watchful eyes of Mr. Edd Bivin and Mrs. Jean Kirkpatrick.

Angelic Bette Rodgers sings "Silver Bells" at annual doll show.

As Christmas season approaches, children everywhere start dreaming of dolls they would like to receive. The same thing happens at Eastern Hills; thus a doll show is born. Admission to the assembly is an article of canned-food or twenty-five cents. This year enough food was collected for ten needy families. "Christmas at Grandma's" was the theme of the show, sponsored by Y-Teens. Santa gave away Egyptian dolls, the Jolly Green Giant, athletic dolls, Highlandettes, the Beatles, puppets, angels, bunnies, and even a Miss America doll.

Led by Johnny Norman, several hula girls flew in from Hawaii just to be in the show.

Elves, Kathy Hubbard and Mary Reid, helped Santa deliver dolls to Eastern Hills students. Two lucky Highlanders received Raggedy Ann (Sam Callaway) and Andy (Ronnie Garland).

Wild West Invades Eastern Hills

Ranch Day royalty included Fawn Stanley and Bill Stockton, standing; Veronica Skidmore, Tommy Blessing, and Patty Groody, seated.

On Ranch Day any kind of westerner can be at ease, as long as he has his six-guns with him. Buddy Marshall, James Grimes, and Kenny Vickers enjoy the Ranch Day style show.

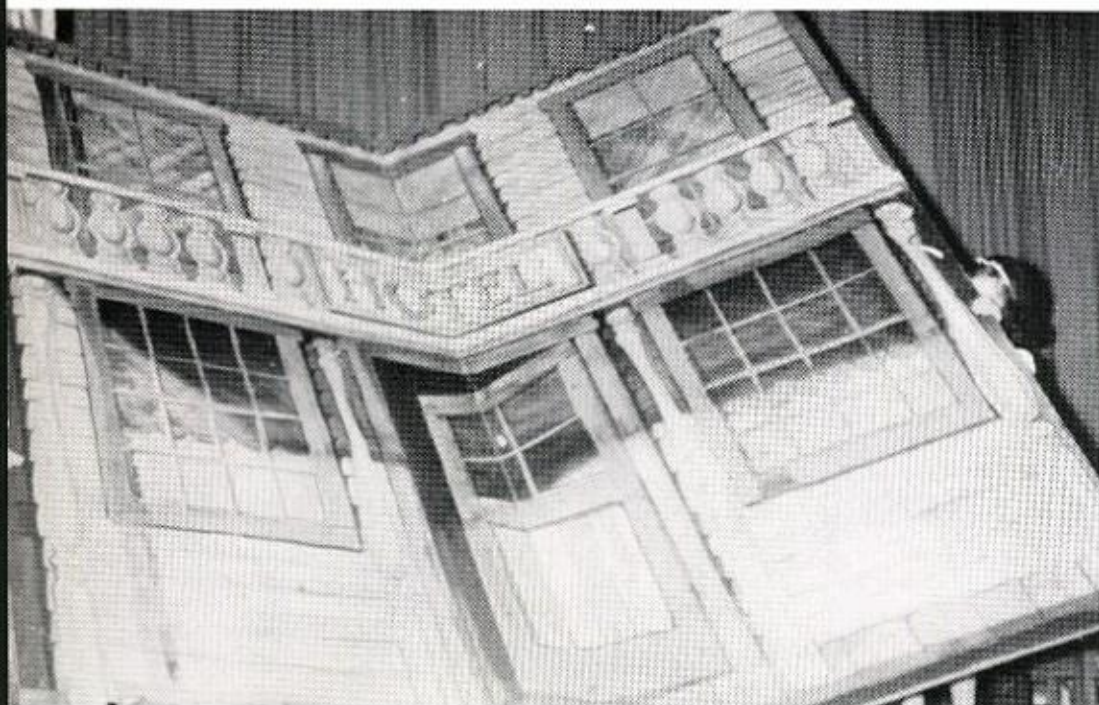

"Yeeo-ah," yells that Long-Tall Texan, Rusty Wright, as he and EH prepare for the annual fun-fest, Ranch Day.

A western fashion show and selection of Ranch King and Queen highlighted this year's Ranch Day festivities. Climax of the assembly was the choosing of the Top Hand, Patty Groody; Foreman, Tommy Blessing; King, Bill Stockton; and Queen, Fawn Stanley. Veronica Skidmore, Y-Teen nominee for City-Wide Queen, was introduced. Nominees for titles were selected by Y-Teen officers. Judges Valerie Harri-man and Don Lacey from KTVT selected the winners.

Added to the Ranch Day program this year was a western fashion show featuring ranchwear for both cowgirls and cowboys. Ginger Royar models tailored slacks and a brightly printed blouse.

As the old hotel goes up . . . or down, all can remember Ranch Day at Eastern Hills and Fat-Stock Show Day at Fort Worth.

"Highlander Show Window" Earns Over $500 for Band

Adding a classical touch to the band program was Gary Adkison's rendition of "Concerto for a One-Armed Paper-Hanger."

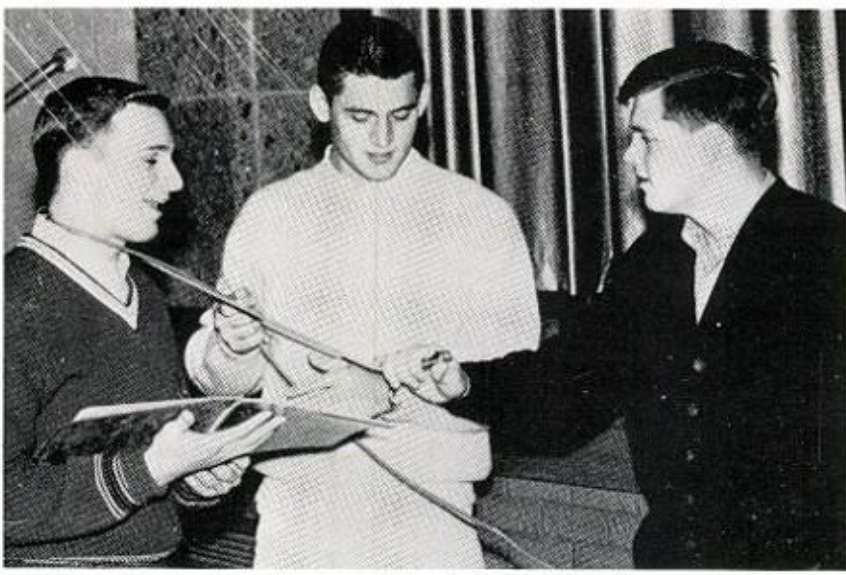

The dancing trio, made up of Christy Hawrylak, Linda Reynolds, and Sherry Brown, do the Charleston during the annual band program.

Larry Tubb, Dean Crocker, John White, Jon Moody, and Robert Gray, "The Hungary Five," add a touch of the old country to the festivities of the "Highlander Show Window." Sponsored by the Band Booster Club, the program netted more than $500.

"Trumpeters' Holiday" came to life as the brass section's first three trumpet players, Mike Bouffard, Bud Ledingham, and Lindsey Mann, took a holiday.

Three masters of ceremonies conducted the Highland Fling in one of its most successful runs. Mike Gentry, Johnny Norman, and Steve Morris discuss script changes.

Roy Merrill, winner of last year's talent award, presents to Garry Ladd the 1965 winner's trophy. Garry played piano selections of "Summertime" and "The World Outside."

Right: The talent section had more contestants than ever before. One group was the Singleton Singers.

A jazz band on the deck of the "Robert E. Lee," a large group of old southern gentlemen, and Jim Hart, as the showboat captain, brought a lively half-hour of entertainment the last night of the Fling.

Fifty girls presented their talent to three judges, and the field was narrowed to 20 semi-finalists. They included Ilene Miller, Dixie Davis, Christy Hawrylak, Bette Rodgers, Jeanne O'Neill, Veronica Skidmore, Sharon Hendrix, Angela Meer, Leslie Mallon, Judi Ryno, Priscilla Pennebaker, Patty Groody, Donna Williamson, Fawn Stanley, Tessie Moore, Jan Record, Carol Houser, Mari Priddy, Bonnie Pemberton, and Paula Barber.

Mrs. Margie Houlihan, who helped produce the Fling, discusses a matter with Paula Barber, who was voted Miss Congeniality, and Leslie Mallon.

Sharon Hendrix, Fawn Stanley, Paula Barber, and Tessie Moore wait nonchalantly for the pageant to begin.

Bonnie Pemberton beams at being the first sophomore to be crowned Big "E" Queen.

"The Sound of Music" Brings Music to EH

"Re, a drop of golden sun," sing the Von Trapp children, led by Maria, the new governess. The five delightful younger children were played by students of local grade schools; the two older girls, by Kathy Hubbard and Tessie Moore. Bette Rodgers portrayed Maria.

As Rodgers and Hammerstein said, "My heart will be blessed with the sound of music," and after April 29, 1965, Eastern Hills and Fort Worth knew just what they meant.

With a cast and crew of over fifty people, the largest production for Eastern Hills ran two nights and received standing ovations both nights.

"She's not an asset to the abbey." The nuns discuss one of the new postulants, Maria. The Mother Abbess Karlin Johnson, ponders the problems that Maria caused while Jan Gandy, Gayle Kimbrough, and Kay Miles discuss her faults.

Captain Von Trapp finally saw his own children as they really were. The Captain, Winford Daniels, calls his children to him as his fiancée, Kathy Brunson, looks on.

Showing the joy of the cast, the leads give each other a congratulatory kiss at the last curtain call. The audience stood to show enthusiastic approval of the first musical of any Fort Worth high school.

Senior Day is traditionally a time for jest and fun. Merrilee Smith, as a poor substitute teacher during the first week of school, tries to explain the method of registration to seniors. Seniors went through a "typical" day when homeroom lasted until noon.

Toni Bergeron adds the finishing touches to Ronnie Hay, who was chosen Miss Big "E." "Ronda" did a dance routine for "her" talent.

Seniors Relive Year's Activities

Wayne Hardy, parking lot policeman, gives Jan Record a ticket. All sorts of vehicles crowded into the parking lot it seems.

Clubs often result from social customs. On the other hand, some customs come from clubs. In the clans of Scotland there are many customs which bring mutual benefit to the members. One such custom is sending the child of one family to be reared in another. This includes the sons of the chiefs. It did much to bind the clans together. The tartan is another binding symbol. Because the tartan plaid represents the family by which it is claimed, the Tartan was chosen as the name of Eastern Hills' newspaper.

The organizations at Eastern Hills, like the clans of Scotland, provide many benefits for everyone. Each year the Red Cross sponsors a drive for funds which aid in the city's Red Cross projects. The German, French, Latin, and Spanish clubs help to give students a better understanding of the other countries and their people by teaching the customs of the different countries. Many clubs and organizations provide students with a chance to display their skills in different fields: chess, bowling, band, journalism, art, music, military, and academic fields. The Bible Club traditionally begins each morning with a passage from the Bible and silent prayer. The Y-Teens are beginning the landscaping of the school this year, among other projects.

As the Grey Dragoons of Scotland have long been known for their fighting spirit, so are the Highlandettes known for their spirit at Eastern Hills' games. These clubs and their customs help to bind the Eastern Hills clan more closely together.

Y-Teens Win Club of Year

Landscaping the lawn and placing greenery around Eastern Hills High School has been the Y-Teens' main service project this year. Other service projects included making cookies for the teachers' lounge, cleaning windshields, making tray favors for the hospital, collecting old clothes and food for the needy, and working at the Senior Citizens Fair. The club sponsored many of the school's activities, including Howdy Week, the Doll Show, Ranch Day program, Twerp Dance, and all Homecoming activities.

Eastern Hills' Y-Teen Club was honored several times by having Y-Teen Club and girl of the month, only to climax the year with Y-Teen Club of the Year in Tarrant County.

Sandra Marks, president of Y-Teens, is holding the trophy that was presented to Eastern Hills for being named Club of the Year.

of the prospective teacher is stressed, all students interested in education are welcomed.

Throughout the year various speakers associated in some way with education presented programs for the club. Members attended both the district meeting here and the state meeting in Houston.

FTA officers included Mike Gentry, treasurer; Francis Spears, secre-

Future Nurses Learn by Helping

To provide opportunities for members to learn about different types of health careers is the purpose of the Future Nurses Club. This is achieved through speakers, movies, and field trips.

A Thanksgiving bake sale for the teachers started this year's activities. Proceeds from the bake sale were used to buy toothbrushes for two classes of underprivileged children at Worth Heights Elementary School. The club then visited these classes on January

28. Mrs. Venita Neely, a teacher of one of these classes at Worth Heights, was the guest speaker at the Christmas dinner, December 8, at Vance Godbey's

The club made posters for special education classes at Sagamore Hill Elementary School.

Three delegates, Betty Blessing, who is president of the club, Mary Willis, and JoAnn Johnson, attended the annual state F.N.C. Convention in Waco in April.

Officers of the Future Nurses are Diane Sullivan, chaplain; Betty Blessing, president; Ann McCart, recording secretary and treasurer; JoAnn Johnson, vice-president.

Office assistants aid school nurse, Mrs. Young, throughout the day.

"Who, me?" coos Donna Williamson as the newspaper staff members play a game at their Christmas party, at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Priddy.

Largen Heads FWHSPA

Press Club is open to all students interested in journalism. Business meetings are held on Thursday mornings. The members tell what they like and dislike about each issue of the paper. This helps the Tartan staff put out a better paper each week.

Speakers are invited to social meetings. Mr. Eldon Corkill spoke to the club members about the difference between corporation journalism and professional journalism. Mr. Corkill is editor of the paper for Ling-Temco-Vought in Garland and a member of the board of directors of the Dallas Press Association. Press Club members are eligible for membership in the Fort Worth High School Press Association, of which Robert Largen, senior, is president.

Officers of the Press Club this year were Francis Hostetter, secretary-treasurer; Karen Royse, president; and Ken Roselle, vice-president.

Art Club Presents Painting to School

Art contributes many things to an organization and a school is no different. As the year progressed through its many phases, the Art Club contributed its time and energy to adding touches of color to the halls. Its posters advertising the meetings have been some of the most creative ones seen in the halls, and the painting it added to the EH collection was beautiful.

The basic purpose of the Art Club is to promote interest in the arts and to expose those already interested to fine art in this city. During the year, visits were made to see such collections as the one at the Children's Museum and the Vincent Price Collection when it came to Fort Worth early in the school year.

Various activities and projects were accomplished by the EH Pan-American Club this year. Five members represented the club at Poly High School, where the Dallas-Fort Worth Pan-American Club forum met to elect officers for the 1964-65 year. The main project of the year was to help victims of the earthquake in Chile. Money contributions were made by Pan-American clubs of all schools to provide food, clothing, and medicine for these victims.

During Christmas the club had a clothing drive. The clothing collected was sent to the Wesley Community Center and the Cuban refugees in Miami, Florida.

Several socials were held throughout the year. Members of Unit II enjoyed a taco party while others held a picnic at Gwynne Horton's. Together the three units had a dinner at the Mexican Inn. The year was ended with a spring picnic at Randol Mill Park.

JCL Wins Award

A slave auction was the first activity of the Junior Classical League this year. The period of servitude was ended by a Roman banquet, where the slaves were served by their masters and the unjust masters were punished. In April, the members chose delegates to attend the State JCL Convention in Waco. They went down on Friday afternoon and came back triumphantly the next night after Ricky Price won a first place in mythology.

French Club Headed by Jackie McMurry

To promote interest in the knowledge of French life and culture has been the French Club's main objective this year. Meetings were held in the homes of club members on the third Tuesday of the month, where films were shown and guest speakers were introduced. During Christmas, club members sang French Christmas carols at an old folks home. To climax the year, the club had a bicycle hike in the spring, and the annual dinner at a French restaurant in Dallas honoring the graduating seniors.

This year the German Club tried to advance the interest of Germany. In the fall the annual dinner party was held at Der Schörnsteinfeger. Activities included esser, singer, und trinken. At Christmas, the club held its party at the home of Ginger Royar. This was concluded with German caroling in the neighborhood.

The German Club traveled to Dallas for a statewide banquet at the University of Dallas. Here they viewed two plays and attended a typical German dance.

Another outstanding event was a bicycle trip and picnic to Randol Mill park. The final meeting was at Claudia MacDowell's home, where a program of German slides was presented by Günther Thiele, a German student at TWC.

Judi Ryno, Janet Schober, Ginger Royar, and Mr. Ben Carroll enjoyed their Jaeger Steak at the German dinner party.

Bowlers Compete for Trophies

On Mondays of each week the Bowling Club meets at Bowlerland in order to provide its members with recreation and enjoyment. The club consists of thirteen teams with three members on each team. The teams compete with each other, and at the close of the year trophies are awarded to the winning team. Trophies are also given to the person with the highest single score and to the person with the highest series score.

Red Cross Buys Bulletin Board

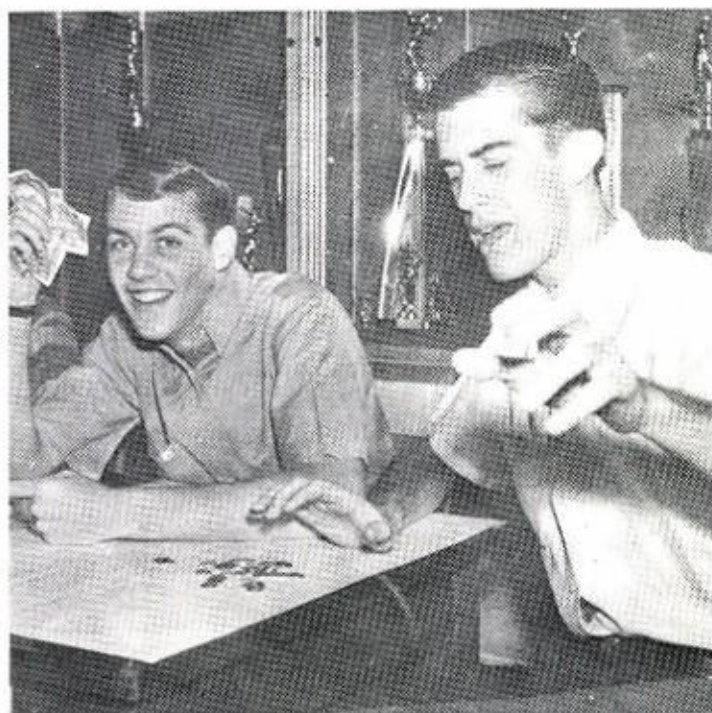

Monday, September 9, marked the beginning of the annual Red Cross membership drive. Funds collected during the five-day period amounted to more than $500. Ten per cent of the money was put into the National Red Cross Children's Fund to be used in disaster areas. Remainder of the money was used to buy a bulletin board for the school and a plaque in memory of Miss Lela Dalton, counselor.

In appreciation of the support of the drive, the Red Cross gave a sock hop in the gym with music and cokes furnished for all who presented their membership cards. A project for the latter part of the year was the filling of a chest to be sent overseas to a disaster area. The chest was built by the wood shop, and a committee of six members and officers collected supplies to fill the chest.

Four Highlanders were active in the county-wide cabinet of Red Cross. Court Crow served as vice-president; Pinkie Bailey, as secretary; and Donna Davis and Candi Cantrell, as committee chairmen. Johnny Keeton was vice-president of Eastern Hills' Red Cross chapter, which was sponsored by Miss Jean Priestly.

Phil Wright, president, and Pam Thomson, secretary, share in preparing the chest for display before sending it to the warehouse to be sent to a disaster area.

"Money, money, money!" shouts Phil Wright. Enthusiasm mounted during the week of the drive, insuring it of success. Randy Cole, treasurer, grins happily at the result of the day's receipts.

Following specific instructions for building the chest to be sent overseas, Court Crow, county vice-president, and Mr. Irvin Doty, shop instructor, add the finishing touches on the gift.

Highlandettes Buy Track Suits

Boosting spirit at football games, ushering at the orientation program for ninth grade students, and selling programs at the Will Rogers Indoor Track Meet and the Southwest Recreational Meet were part of the activities of the Highlandettes. At the football banquet, Highlandettes served as usherettes.

Highlandettes assisted the Booster Club in selling candy. The money raised was used to buy warm-up suits for the track team.

Throughout the football season, Highlandettes participated in every pep rally to encourage more school spirit.

Throughout the day office assistants devote their study hall to assisting in the different offices. Girls in the main office distribute the daily attendance sheets, run special errands within the school, and sell supplies. Those assisting Mr. Vaughan collect and file the class attendance records each period and help within the office. Girls working with Mrs. Tucker frequently do typing and filing of permanent records, as well as delivering messages. To work in these offices, assistants must maintain certain grade qualifications.

Seniors who will give up their study hall and be willing to work after school yet receive no credit toward graduation are eligible to be on the annual staff. Applications are taken in the spring; staff members are chosen on the basis of their grades, attendance, and citizenship.

Since there is no carry-over of funds from one year to the next, the staff must plan the yearbook carefully so that they will not exceed their budget, which is determined by the number of package plans sold. This year only 67 per cent of the student body purchased annuals; therefore, money was not available for a four-color picture.

Close examination of dummy sheets cuts errors in an annual to a minimum. Nancy Roddy, personality editor, and Pam Thompson, faculty editor, check duplicate pages that have been turned in.

For Clan Staff, Production of Annual Is Quite a Memory

Tartan Wins Award

After a year of hard work, the Tartan staff was rewarded in some measure by the fact that the newspaper was given an Award of Distinguished Merit in Journalism by the Interscholastic League Press Conference. This is the highest rank of Texas school newspapers in its classification.

The paper staff is composed of seniors enrolled in journalism. Unlike many schools, Eastern Hills has only one class of journalism; therefore beginning journalists are expected to produce a readable paper approximately three weeks after enrolling in the course. Added to the staff's woes was the fact that Mrs. Priddy retired at mid-term, and Miss King took over her duties.

Band Rehearsal

Leading the Highlander Band in all marching activities were drum majors, Linda Reynolds and Gerry Pendery.

Preparation and organization for band programs and other events began August 31 and continued until the opening of school. These practices, headed by drum majors and squad leaders, lasted for ten hours each day. Playing for the senior and junior-sophomore registration programs opened the Highlander band's 1964-65 schedule. During football season much time was devoted to rehearsals for pep rallies and the half-time performances presented at each game. Transported by bus to the Temple and Cleburne games, the band performed and boosted the Highlander spirit.

Throughout the year the Highlanders participated in various contests and marched in the Fat Stock Show Parade on January 29. The Bell Marching Festival and the Interscholastic League contest at Irving, both held in November, brought honors to EH twirlers. A concert band festival was held April 2-3 at Castleberry High School with many solos and ensembles entered, in addition to competition of the entire band. All time was not spent rehearsing; several parties were held during the year.

Highlight of the year for ROTC members was the excellent performance at the annual federal inspection, during which the corps was given a grueling three hour inspection by an Army colonel and two majors. The cadets were classed the best in Fort Worth and were rated outstanding in all areas.

The battalion was especially commended for its fine esprit d' corps, the appearance of all uniforms, and for its ability to parade. Singled out for exceptional praise were the student sponsors and Mrs. Marjorie Reid, faculty sponsor, for outstanding support of the corps. The chief inspector's final comment was, "Sgt. Cooksey, you have a corps of which you can be proud."

Rifle team members were Larry Kilgore, Mike Skidmore, Gary Canada, Terry Vernon, Phil Begley, Christopher Copeland, and Bobby Bowen.

To the Scotch, tossing the caber is a man's game requiring strength and skill. A twenty to forty foot pole is tossed in a straight line so that it lands in a straight line to the player. To the Highlanders of Eastern Hills, football, basketball, and track are equally difficult sports requiring much strength and precision. Tossing the caber and other sports are presented before the Royalty in Braemar, Scotland, each year. Like the Scotch, Highlanders participate in large annual tournaments, too. Each year Eastern Hills enters the Southwest Recreational Meet. This includes track, pole vault, shotput, and discus. The boxing team enters the Golden Gloves each year, also. Golf, a game on which the St. Andrews Golf Club of Scotland is the recognized world authority, is another Highlander activity and tournament sport.

Although Scottich women participate in few sports other than the Highland dancing, Eastern Hills girls are active in many sports. These include volleyball, basketball, ping pong, and shuffleboard. Archery, an old Highland skill, is another of the girls' sports. This year girls from Eastern Hills participated in the Southwest Recreational Track Meet.

Four Highlanders Make All-District

With seven defensive and five offensive starters returning from 1963, the Highlanders looked toward the 1964 season with great optimism. Returning starters were Johnny Norman, Larry Hulsey, Steve Morris, Mike Mitchell, Tommy Thompson, David Smith, Dwayne Williams, Phil Luebbehusen, and Lloyd Grimm.

Highlanders worked diligently all year but were hard hit by injuries. Lloyd Grimm was lost for a month with a shoulder separation, and both ends, Johnny Norman and Mike Mitchell, were out of action for several games. Several juniors played admirably. Included were Tommy Thompson, David Smith, and Gary Smyers.

All-district selections included four Highlanders on the first team and three on the second team. One Highlander received all-district honorable mention. Gaining first team berths were end Mike Mitchell, tackle Phil Luebbehusen, guard Steve Morris, and halfback Lloyd Grimm. Second team honors were received by guard Ronnie Patterson, quarterback Tommy Thompson, and tackle Steve Latham. Fullback Gary Smyers received honorable mention. Mike Mitchell, Steve Morris, and Tommy Thompson were members of the all-academic team.

tage of the holes opened by the linemen were the backfield men consisting of Lloyd Grimm, Danny Muse, Tommy Thompson, and Dwayne Williams.

Led by co-captains Steve Morris and Phil Luebbehusen, the Highlanders begin a pre-game workout.

Again in 1964, the Highlanders had a strong defense which was led by linemen Steve Latham, Ronnie Patterson, Steve Morris, Larry Hulsey, and Mike Mitchell. The secondary consisted of William Higginbotham, Wayne Hardy, Phil Luebbehusen, David Smith, Dwayne Williams and J. D. McMahon.

Highlanders Beat Richland 12-7

Looking for a victory to avenge last year's opening loss to Richland, Eastern Hills found the going tough but opened the 1964 season with a 12-7 victory over the Rebels. On their second possession of the ball game, the Highlanders needed only six plays to cross the goal stripe. Halfback Lloyd Grimm scored the touchdown on a thirty-two yard dash over left guard. completion of the evening. Quarterback Tommy Thompson scored Eastern Hills' second touchdown on a one-yard plunge following another drive. The try for point failed again. A stalwart Highlander defense led by Steve Morris and outstanding play from two defensive ends, Johnny Norman and Mike Mitchell, held the Rebels to seventy-three yards total offense.

Eastern Hills Nips Buffs 7-6

By thwarting two second-half drives by Haltom inside their own 10 yard line, the stubborn Highlanders squeezed out a 7-6 victory and moved their season record to 2-0. Eastern Hills' score came in the first half on a 93-yard drive that consumed 15 plays. With 2:20 left in the first half, Dwayne Williams scored on a two-yard burst. Williams then kicked the point that meant the difference in the final outcome.

Haltom halfback Rodney Ryan scored the Buffs' only tally on an 8-yard run. The try for point was no good.

The Buff quarterback fumbled the snap but recovered. He threw to Mike Naeve, but officials ruled his knee had touched the ground. The Buffs made a drive in the third period but were stopped short at the EH two. In the fourth period they drove to the 9, but on a fourth and one situation the Clan defense held. Defensive standouts were J. D. McMahon, Ronnie Patterson, and Steve Morris.

Wildcats Nudge EH 8-6

Temple was the scene of Eastern Hills' only long trip in 1964. The Highlanders left for Temple with the thought of coming back undefeated. Their plans went awry, though, as the Wildcats nudged the Clansmen 8-6.

Temple drew first blood when they scored in the first quarter. The Wildcat score came on a fourteen yard pass from quarterback Williams to his end, Rucker. The attempt for two points was Determined Steers from North Side, out to avenge last year's loss, defeated the Highlanders 12-7, in the opening game of district play. North Side scored on its first possession, with the touchdown coming on an 18-yard pass from halfback Richard Bailey to Ricky Lansford. The try for points failed and left the score 6-0.

Eastern Hills drove to the North Side three after the kick-off but was unable to score. In the second half North Side started playing hard-nosed football and ran up the middle of the line, using fullback Danny Sides the majority of the time. The Steers scored on a 68-yard drive, with quarterback Terry Key getting the last five yards. The try for extra points again failed. The Highlanders finally got on the scoreboard with 4:35 left, on a one-yard slam by Danny Muse, which followed a 35-yard pass play from Tommy Thompson to Lloyd Graham.

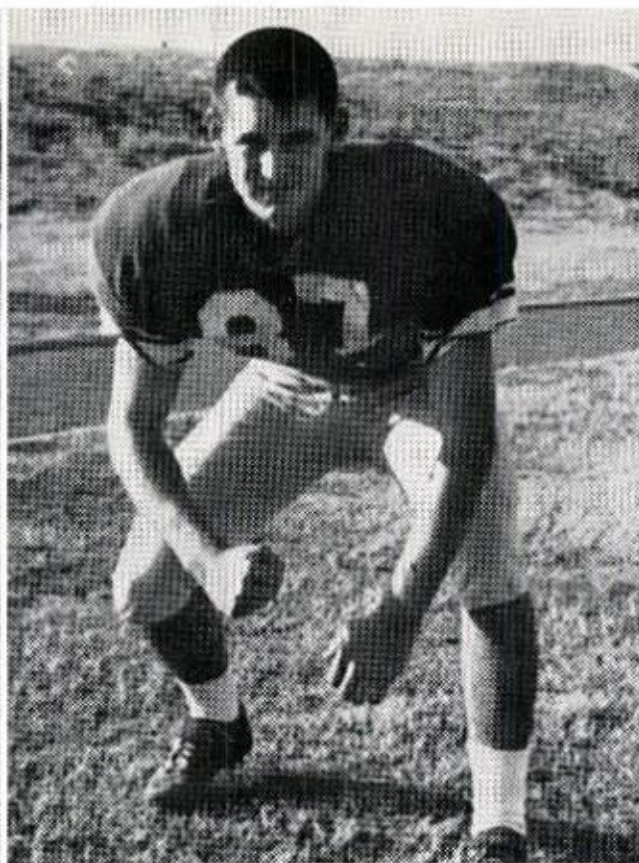

Mike Mitchell, David Smith, and Steve Morris played good defensive ball. End Johnny Norman broke his arm early in the game and was lost for a month.

Hills Whips Poly 14-12

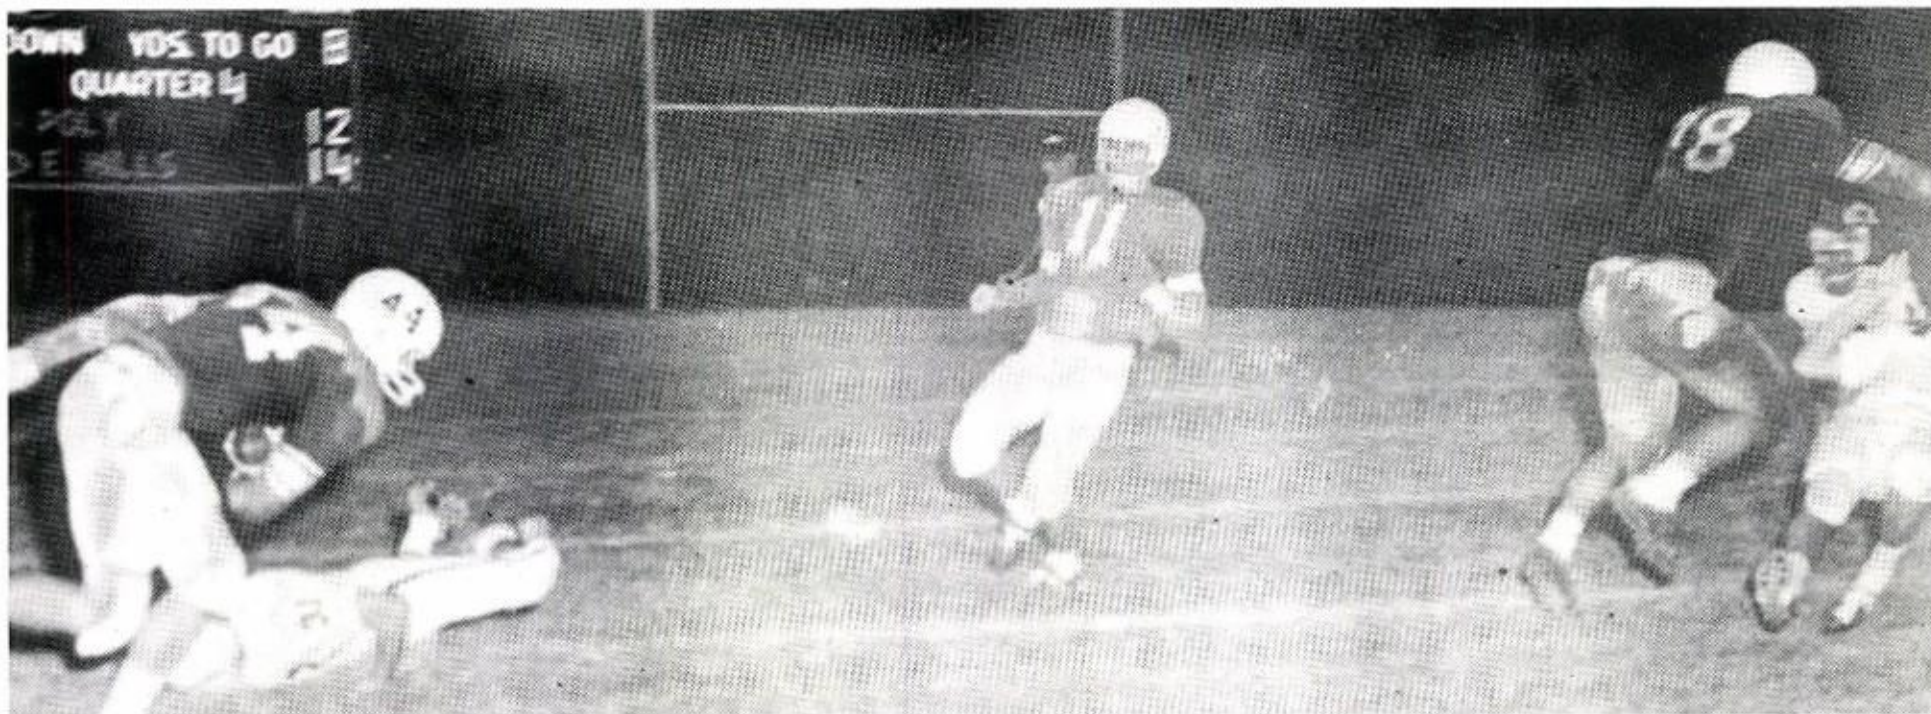

Looking for their first district win of 1964 the Highlanders went out to face Poly's Parrots with a hunger for victory. They succeeded with a 14-12 victory, but had to stave off Poly's bids for extra points after the Parrots' touchdowns. Eastern Hills drove for two quick touchdowns in the first half. Tommy Thompson got the first score on a one yard keeper play. Williams' point after made it 7-0. When Poly fumbled a punt at its own 13 yard line, the Highlanders were ready to take advantage of the error. It took only two plays to score, with Lloyd Grimm getting the last eight yards over left tackle for the touchdown. Williams' point was again successful.

Poly came roaring back to score before the half ran out on an eight yard pass from Gary Cantrell to Doyle Primm. The try for points failed. The second Parrot score came after a punt was blocked and recovered at the Highlander three. Bob Purcell scored the TD from the one. Trying to tie the score, Poly sent Keith Huffman off right tackle, but he was met and stacked up short of the goal line.

Highlanders Shut Out Carter 14-0

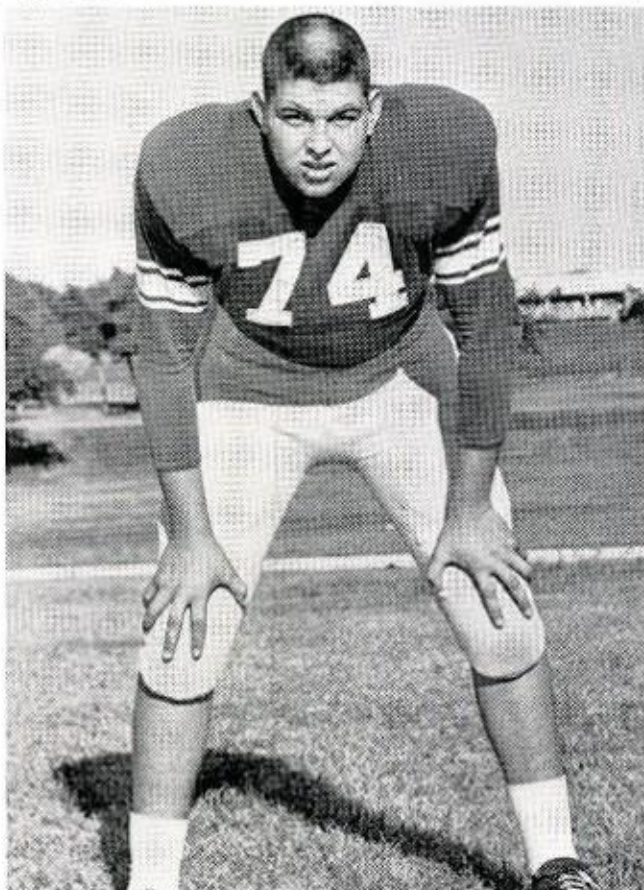

Eastern Hills could do nothing wrong, and Carter's Eagles could do nothing right as the Highlanders got their first shutout of the season, 14-0, and moved their district marker to 2-1. The rugged defensive unit was largely responsible for the victory, letting the Eagles escape from their own territory only three times during the entire ball game. Approximately 5,000 fans saw the Highlanders downed by Paschal's Panthers 13-0 in the muddiest ball game of the season in Ft. Worth. Eastern Hills went into the game with high spirits of upsetting the Panthers and proceeding farther in the district race.

All of Paschal's scoring was done in the first half, with two field goals, of 28 and 25 yards, and a 4-yard touchdown sprint with 14 seconds left. Paschal kicker, Dennis Hunt, got the two field goals, and quarterback Robert Terry punched the four yards for the lone score of the game. The first half ended with the Highlanders owning only one first down.

In the second half the Clansmen settled down and stopped the touted Panther offense, holding them to only 65 yards rushing. Leading the Highlander defense were end Mike Mitchell, tackle Phil Luebbehusen, and guard Steve Morris. The strong defense of Eastern Hills held Paschal's Doug Wiley to only 37 yards rushing, his lowest output of the season in district play. The loss to Paschal left Eastern Hills with a 2-2 district record and ruined any title hopes.

Paschal fullback David Bowen is about to be brought down after a short gain by a combination of Highlander defenders, Phil Luebbehusen (60), Mike Mitchell (84), Larry Hulsey (74), and Steve Morris (62).

Showering Technical with five first half touchdowns and a sixth added shortly after intermission, the Highlanders put on their most impressive offensive show of the season in crushing the Bulldogs, 38-12. Halfback William Higginbotham scored three touchdowns; Gary Smyers scored two; and Danny Muse scored the other one.

On their first possession the Highlanders scored with Higginbotham slamming over from the two. Smyers got the next score following an 80 yard drive, highlighted by his own 54 yard sprint. A punt return by Dwayne Williams set up the third Eastern Hills score, which Higginbotham made on a 14 yard burst, carrying tacklers with him into the end zone. Following the kick-off the Bulldogs fumbled. J. D. McMahon pounced on the ball at the Bulldog 30, and 4 plays later Higginbotham shot through right tackle from the 12 for his third tally. The Clan's fifth score came 18 seconds before the half with a 7-yard run by Smyers. On their first possession of the second half the Scots made it 36-0, moving 41 yards in 4 plays, with Muse getting the six-pointer from the one.

Tech QB Dean Stacy found end Alton Hargrove to set up the first Bulldog score by fullback Keith Adkins. Adkins also got the second score.

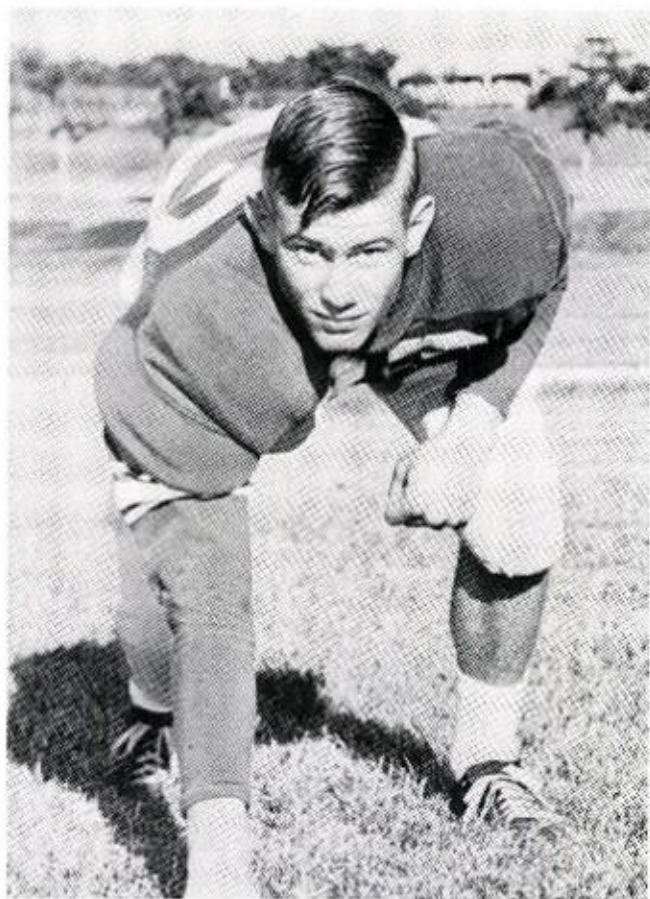

The Scots defensive unit was outstanding in the first half, holding Tech to no first downs and a minus 2 yards rushing. Defense was led by Johnny Norman, Larry Hulsey, Steve Morris, and Phil Luebbehusen.

Yellow Jackets Freeze Hills 35-15

In the Homecoming game of 1964, which turned out to be a cold one, the Highlanders could never warm up and were defeated by the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets 35-15. The first time Heights had possession of the ball, they drove 80 yards in a touchdown drive that took 18 plays. The point after was good, making it 7-0. The next two times the Yellow Jackets had the ball, Chad Dulaney scored on one-yard plunges. The try for point after the third touchdown was blocked, leaving the score 20-0.

On the ensuing kick-off, William Higginbotham dashed 90 yards for the first Highlander score of the evening. Long yardage touchdown heaves added two more Yellow Jacket scores in the second half. One two point conversion and a one point conversion left the score at 35-7. Seven minutes and seventeen seconds remained in the game when J. D. McMahon found Lloyd Grimm on a 53 yard scoring play that brought the score to 35-13. A pass from McMahon to end Pete Jensen added two points, and the ball game ended 35-15.

The talented defense of the Clansmen, which had been second ranked defensively, found the going tough against an extremely powerful Yellow Jacket eleven. This ended the season for Eastern Hills, which finished with a 3-3 district record and 6-4 overall record.

B Team Sports 6-4 Season

Coached by Tommy Runnels and Johnny Howerton, the 1964 B Team finished with a season record of 6-4. Tri-captains were Jon "Thorny" Thornburg, Dennis York and Eddie Douglas. "The team was not blessed with outstanding speed or depth, but the attitude and spirit of wanting to play their best was the best I have witnessed in some time," reflected Coach Runnels.

In six district games the B team won 4 and lost 2. The team played outstanding defensive ball in three games, shutting out Carter, Poly, and North Side. The other victory came against Technical 48-6, in the last game of the season. These two teams had met earlier in the year, with the Highlanders also taking that one 22-16. The difference in the two scores showed strong improvement.

Two losses suffered by the B team were at the hands of Paschal and Arlington Heights. Paschal shut out the Highlanders 14-0. The Heights B team intercepted a Highlander pass in the last minute of play to score the only touchdown of the game. The final score was 6-0.

Champs Fail to Repeat

With five lettermen returning from the championship team of 1964, the basketball team looked forward to the start of the '65 season. In their pre-district schedule the Highlanders were impressive at times, playing the Haltom Buffaloes and the Richland Rebels some real close games. Haltom was one of the best basketball teams in the state at the time.

When district started, the Highlanders' luck changed rapidly. In district play Eastern Hills salvaged only three victories, finishing with a 3-9 district record.

The mile relay quartet ran to a new record of 3:23.9 in the district meet. This new school mark was only good enough for third place in the close district race. In the pole vault Jim Hart set a new school record of 13'2½" and a new district record of 12'9". Lloyd Grimm set a new school record in the broad jump, jumping 22'10" in the regional meet. Seven returning lettermen anxiously awaited the start of the baseball season at Eastern Hills. Hopes were high because of the number of returning starters, but they were shattered when the Highlanders started the first half of district play. In first half competition the only victory came against North Side. The second half was little bit different. After an opening game loss to Arlington Heights, the Highlanders fought back to finish the second half with a 4-2 record. Two of these victories were upsets over heavily favored Paschal and Carter-Riverside. This flurry of late season victories brought the Highlanders district record to five victories and seven losses, the best district record compiled by the recent baseball teams at Eastern Hills.

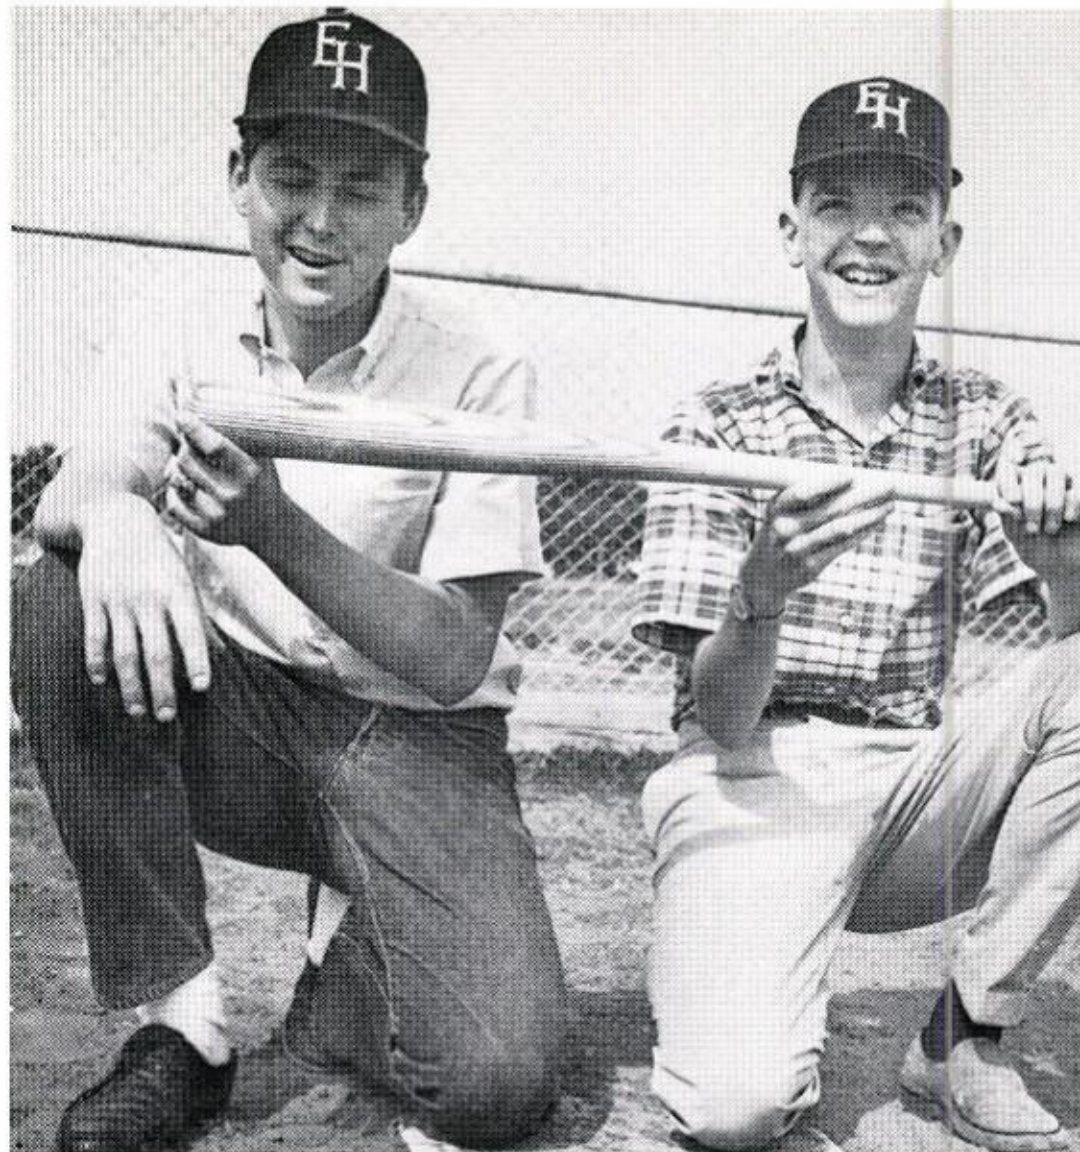

Coach Graves said about the 1965 Highlander baseball season, "It was long, cold, and rainy; we lost too many close ones." When asked about the second half, coach Graves had this to say. "We started our Arnold Palmer charge too late."

I'll always look up to you. Sandra, I believe you are the one girl I can try to copy. You set such a wonderful pattern to follow. You are everything I'll always want to be. You are so sweet, kind and thoughtful. It is no wonder why you are so well liked. I love you to pieces and I wish you the best always. I hope I can be the Projects Chairman as well as you. I doubt it is possible though. May God bless you.

Love ya,
Cindy

Scotland's warriors, physicians, mathematicians, and writers have had long-lasting effects on history. Every year Shakespeare's play Macbeth is studied in the senior English classes. Macbeth was actually a real person. In 1040, he murdered Duncan, King of Scotland, and claimed the throne for himself. He was later killed at Lumphanan after a reign of prosperity.

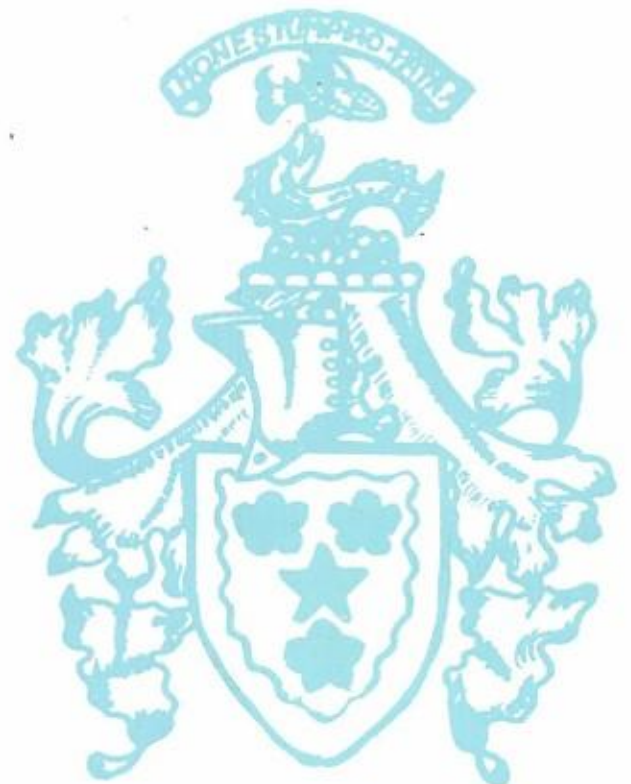

Mary, Queen of Scots, left deep marks in history due to the persecution of Roman Catholics during her reign. Scottish theologians wrote most of The Book of Common Prayer.

Sir Walter Scott left his classic Ivanhoe and other works for future generations to enjoy, as did poet Robert Burns. Sir William McEwen was a pioneer of modern cerebral surgery.

Famous for his process of developing steel, Scottish born Andrew Carnegie left great libraries and educational funds so that others might have the education for which he worked so hard.

Like these personalities, Eastern Hills personalities are outstanding in various fields: academic, beauty, and talent. Those who are outstanding in each academic field are represented in Who's Who. The sports queens, feature personalities, such as Ranch Day winners, class favorites, and talent winners, show Eastern Hills' tops in other fields. The highest of these honors are the titles of Mr. and Miss EHHS, the best all around personalities, as elected by popular vote of the student body.

Dear Sandra,

I hope very much that the 65-66 year will be as good to us as the 64-65 year. You really not know, and I could really not express myself enough, in telling you how much fun I had these past 2 and one half years.

Almost a quarter of the Scottish public schools are one-teacher schools, while the ones with not more than three teachers amount to half the total number in the country. On the Eastern Hills faculty there are fifty teachers, all of whom have at least a bachelor's degree, with many having obtained their master's. Every year these teachers supervise student teachers from one of the colleges or universities in the area. Student teaching is required for a degree in education. All the teachers of public or grant-aid schools in Scotland must have a certificate issued by the secretary of state on completion of a course of professional training. These courses last from one to three years, depending on the certificate or qualification the teacher already has.

The courses which are taught in the secondary schools are arranged to suit the needs of the pupils.
They include academic, commercial, technical, domestic, and rural courses. Scotland's colleges and universities provide further education for the minority of students who do not enter employment direct from school. The four universities in Scotland are St. Andrews, founded in 1411; Glasgow, founded in 1451; Aberdeen, founded in 1494; and Edinburgh, founded in 1583.

I hope it will always be this way ha and the coming school year be as great as the last 2 and one half.
Faculty love ya always,
David

Busby, Stone Head Schools

Fort Worth's Independent School District was led again this year by Superintendent Elden Busby, who holds a BA degree from Abilene Christian, an MA degree from TCU, and a Ph.D. from Stanford University. The senior high division of the system was headed by Mr. Roy Stone, whose degrees include a BA degree from Abilene Christian and an MA degree from the University of Texas.

An initial step was taken this year by Superintendent Busby and the assistant superintendent on a study of grades and grading. "Educational achievement involves growth, and this development is difficult to measure objectively," says Mr. Stone. This study hopes to ease the problem of grading.

Eastern Hills Profits From Bond Election

Following a comprehensive study of the problem of an explosive growth in school-age population, the Board of Education carefully examined the needs of the school district and proposed a bond election on December 5 for $27,198,031. The issues passed by a 7-1 majority.

These bonds will provide many additions to Fort Worth schools. To Eastern Hills, specifically, will come a balcony for the auditorium and fourteen class rooms. To Handley Field, additions will include a track, new bleachers, and an enlarged parking lot.

As a school year proceeds through its different laboring pains, no one can possibly escape seeing the molding hand of Mr. Roy C. Johnson, principal of Eastern Hills. Throughout the north-central area of Texas the reputation of excellence that Mr. Johnson asks from the Highlanders is well-known.

With certificates in administration, secondary and elementary education, and a superintendent's certificate, Mr. Johnson has the knowledge and training to fill his position with distinction. He has a BA from NTSU and an MA from TCU.

Mr. Johnson extends a friendly hand to Pam Thompson.

As dean of girls and senior counselor, Miss Arabella Odell uses her past experience as a teacher as references to her many and varied problems. Both of Miss Odell's degrees, a BA and MA, come from the University of Texas. This year, as always, the seniors took advantage of her tireless efforts to help them over the hardships of graduation.

Former Teachers Serve as Vice Principal, Dean

With successful seasons as vice principal and tennis coach behind him, Mr. Kenneth O. Vaughan has given to Eastern Hills all of his energy and his talent. Through the fight song, "Fight For Eastern Hills", Mr. Vaughan gave of his musical talent. His education includes BA and MA degrees from TCU. Tennis and cattle head his hobbies.

Mr. Vaughan, tennis coach, shows four participants proper net height with new net belts.

Faculty Aids in Progress

Willing is a key word to describe the members of EHHS faculty. Always willing to share with their students the wealth of knowledge and experience which they have acquired through their own education from life, they put forth tireless efforts to help all.

In all fields alike, mathematics, history, language, English, science, business, homemaking, teachers strive to better their individual departments by putting into use new methods brought in by the Fort Worth public school system. The Clan this year has tried to bring out the new methods and new branches of the different departments so that you may become acquainted with and remember the progress of Eastern Hills.

Mrs. Ina Tucker, Eastern Hills' registrar since fall of 1959, maintains permanent records of students at Eastern Hills. Her duties include filing all financial records and sending transcripts. She obtained her B.A. from Trinity University. Among her interests are playing bridge, dancing, sewing, and knitting.

All Science Labs Acquire New Equipment

This year the science department expanded by acquiring new lab equipment for each of its three course offerings. Minute details were studied in more detail by the biology classes with the aid of the overhead projector. Teachers spent many extra hours preparing transparencies to aid students.

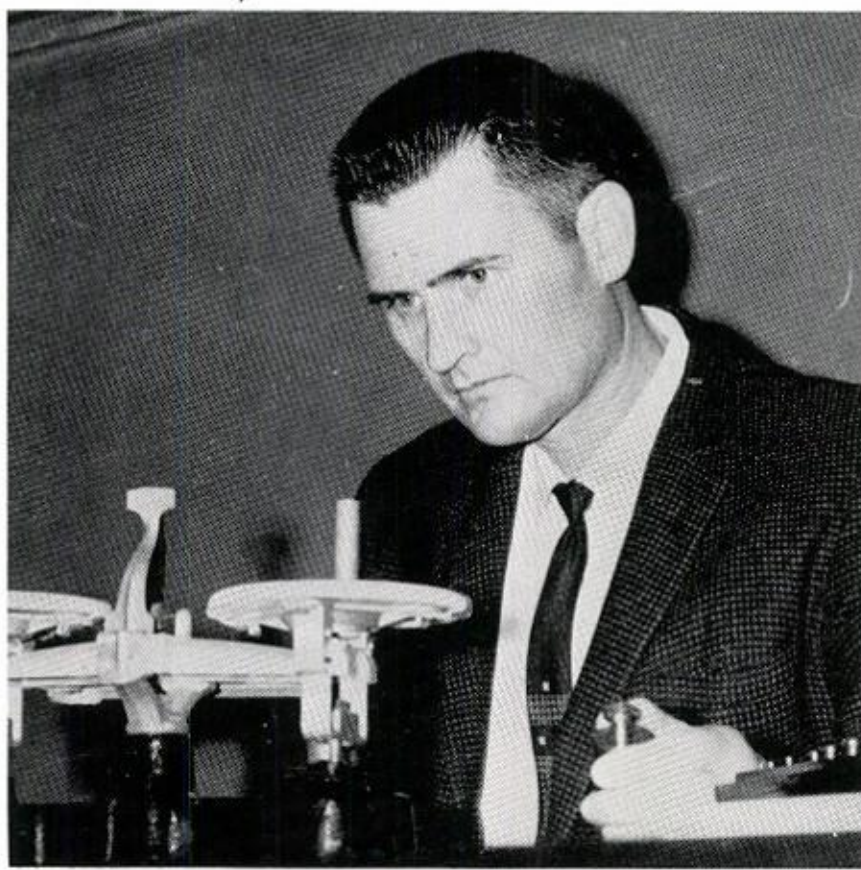

Proving beneficial to the chemistry lab was the analytical balance which measures accurately to .0001 of a gram. The balance enabled substances to be measured to a finer point; thus experiments were more accurate. Costing $650, the single pan analytical balance has jeweled bearings of ruby and sapphire.

Textbooks and lab manuals were changed this year in the chemistry classes. They introduce the new method which is being taught in college chemistry. The method deals more with physical chemistry, teaches the use of a slide rule, and gives a background in physics.

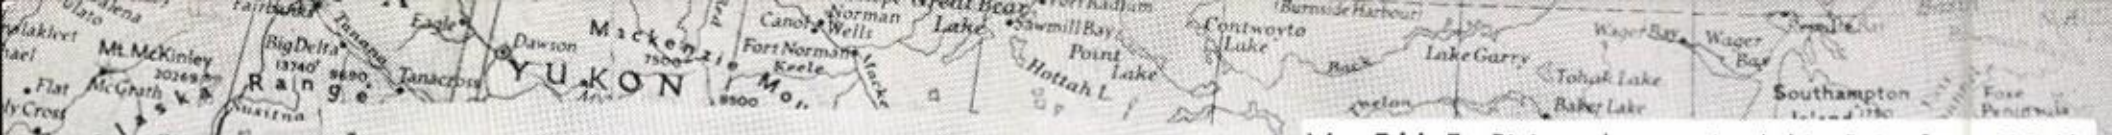

A start in the plan to change from present equipment to the Physical Science Study Committee equipment, which is of a very high quality, was made this year in physics, a course offered to students having had chemistry.

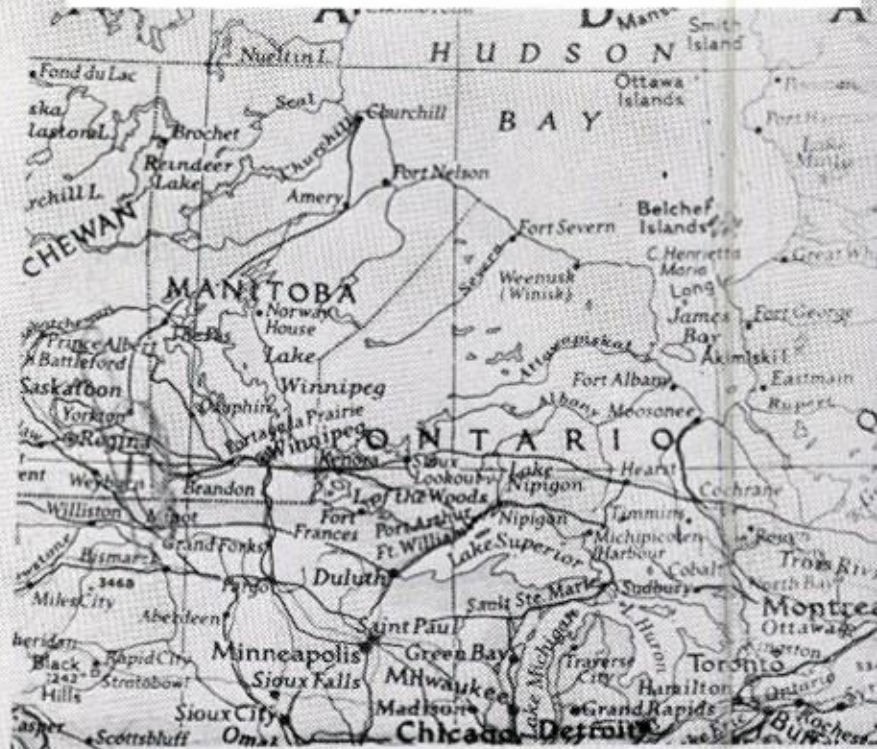

Mr. John Ross, who teaches biology, attended T.W.C. where he received his B.S. and M.Ed. His interests include world affairs, science and space exploration, hunting, and fishing.

Theorems, Sets Puzzle Math Students

Highlander math courses cover a wide range of topics from unified geometry to elementary analysis. Unified geometry is required in the sophomore year. Its purpose is to help students learn to reason. It covers the major axioms and postulates of geometry, especially the Pythagorean theorem and other theorems on triangles and circles.

Algebra II is an elective offered in the junior or senior year and is advised if the student is going into college mathematics or if it is required in his freshman year. This year a new book is being used. Besides the subjects covered in the old text, the new one also discusses sets, trigonometric functions, identities, formulas, permutations, combinations, and probability. This material is helpful for those going into trigonometry and analysis.

Trigonometry is offered in the first half of the senior year for those who have already completed unified geometry and Algebra I and II. It includes the study of trigonometric functions, logarithms, and imaginary numbers and has an introduction to radian and mil measure.

Analysis, the third elective math course, is offered in the last half of the senior year. It includes the study of number systems other than the common base 10, as well as probability and statistics.

One of the activities of the Spanish Classes is to say the conversations from the book. Here Randy Cagle and Jack Griffin prepare to say their own conversations.

A-LM Course I

Three of the foreign languages taught at EH, French, German, and Spanish, are now using the A-LM form of teaching, which is specifically written for a language lab. This year was the second year for the language laboratory at Eastern Hills.

Prime reason for the A-LM form of language teaching is to further the development of conversational speaking and understanding. The program is based on the conviction that language is first of all speech, and the ability to communicate by means of spoken words is of primary importance.

Attention is especially given to the ability to understand the language as it is spoken by educated native speakers. Also it is necessary to be able to speak the language in a manner that would be acceptable to such native speakers. Once the audio-lingual foundation has been established, the mechanics of the reading and writing skills are introduced.

This new form of studying a foreign language was widely accepted at Eastern Hills. Thirty-two percent of the students are now taking some kind of foreign language.

Mr. J. P. Psomas earned his B.A. degree from Northeastern State College in Oklahoma. Mr. Psomas teaches Spanish 2, 3, and sponsors the Pan Am Club, Unit I and the Bible Club. Camping, carpentry, and swimming fill most of his spare time.

Miss Barbara Naish, French and English teacher, received her B.A. degree from T.C.U. Aside from sponsoring Toujours Francais, she enjoys reading, sewing, playing the piano, and swimming.

Widely Accepted

German students improve their speaking ability through use of the language lab.

Mrs. Valda Carroll teaches German and unified geometry. She attended T.C.U., where she earned her B.A. degree. Mrs. Carroll sponsors the German and Chess Clubs. Her interests include traveling, sewing, her children, reading, and taking piano lessons.

Mrs. Jean Dyer, FTA sponsor and teacher of English, obtained her B.S. and M.Ed. from T.W.C. Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, reading, and baseball.

Department Endeavor

To prepare a student with a sufficient background in English grammar and literature for college, as well as a career, is the aim of the English department. Students must take three years of English and may take a year of journalism if their grades in English are good. During the three years the student is required to give book reports, recite poetry, write stories and essays, and learn the mechanics of grammar.

As sophomores, students study for a semester world literature, a combination of ancient works and present day writings, including a study of JULIUS CAESAR and SILAS MARNER. The remainder of the year is spent learning the rules and usage of grammar.

Junior students study American literature, the works of America's greatest authors and poets, with the last half of the year devoted to grammar. During the last semester juniors learn the correct rules for writing a term theme. Students choose their topics from American literature.

During the senior year the student studies English literature with a study of MACBETH included. Also much time is devoted to the writing of a term theme with students choosing their topics from English literature. The remaining one half semester is devoted to grammar.

Designed to prepare the student for college, the course is offered in only three high schools in Fort Worth. It is taught by Mrs. Polly Lovett.

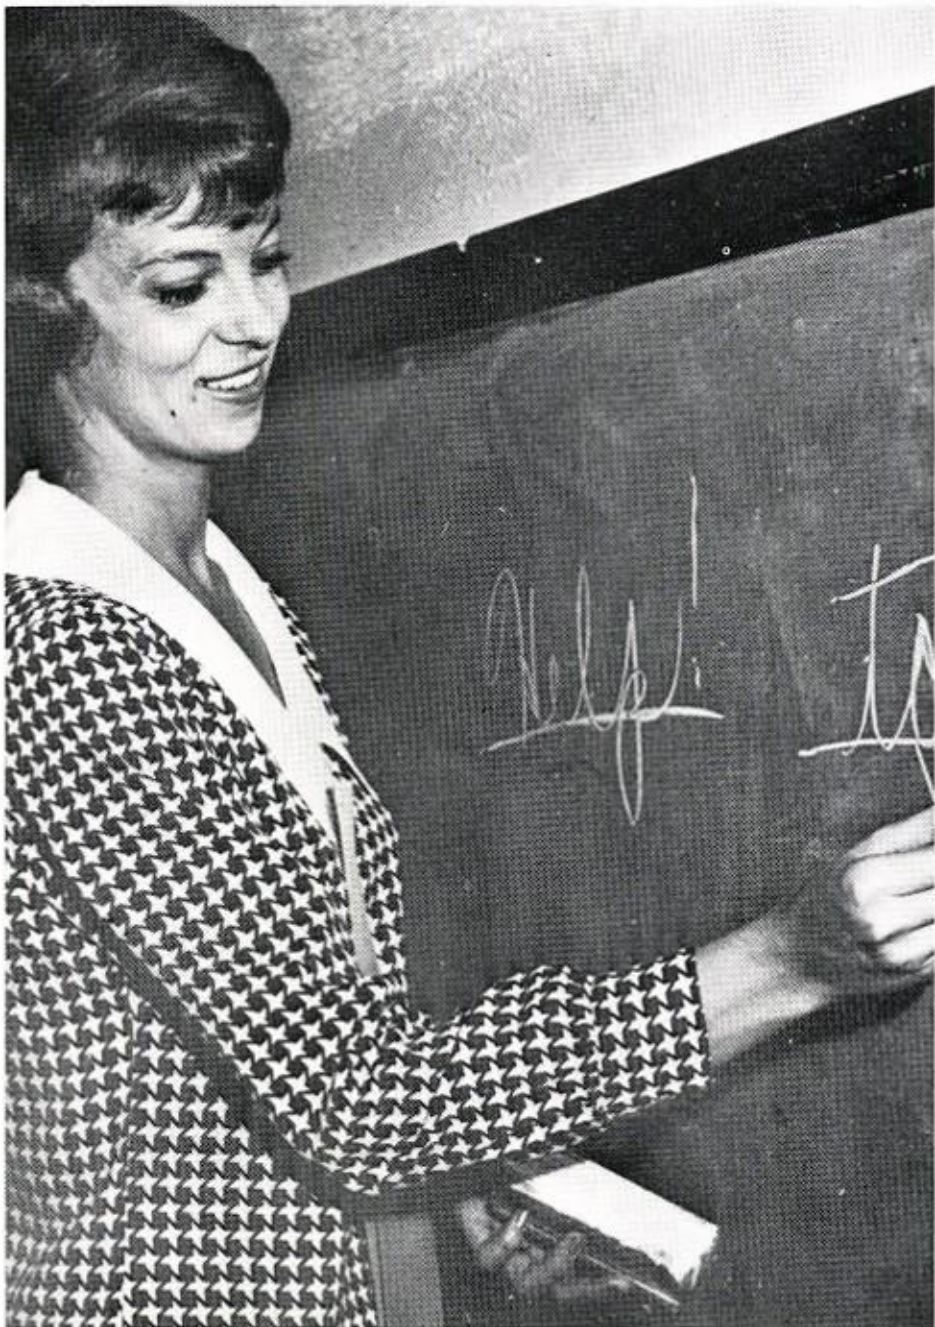

Journalism, offered to seniors only, teaches students the basic principles of lay-out, writing features, news stories, editorials and headlines, copyreading, and proofreading. Students publish a bi-weekly paper, the Tartan. In order to take journalism the students must have good grades in English and have an interest in writing.

Mrs. Katrina Cartee, who received her B.S. degree from Texas Woman's University, enjoys sewing and watching her husband race cars.

Mrs. Mary James, who teaches shorthand, bookkeeping, and typing, received her B.A. degree at N.T.S.U. Her likes and hobbies include fishing, camping, housekeeping, and food.

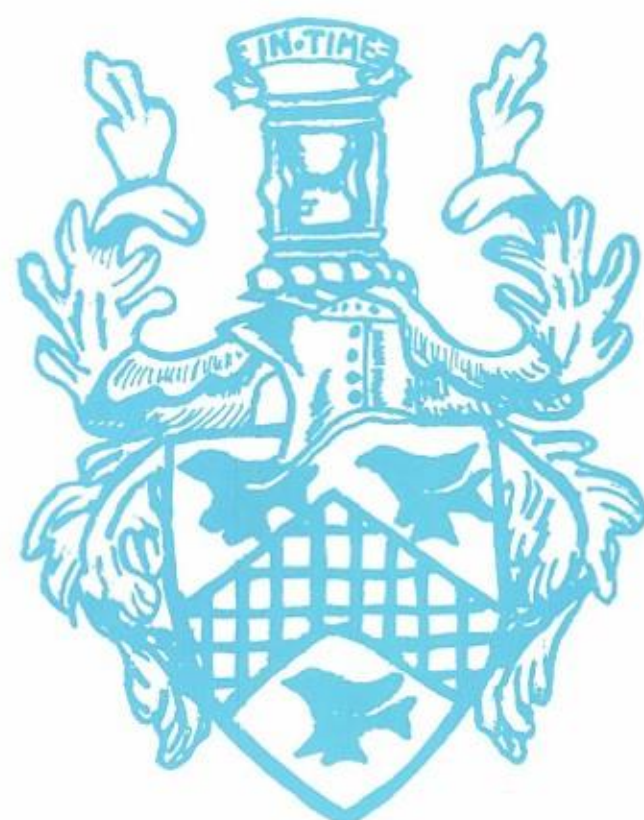

Just as there are three classifications at Eastern Hills High School—sophomore, junior, and senior—so are there three classifications in the clan system of Scottish ancestry. The chief of a clan dispensed the law in times of peace and led his followers in times of war. He governed the clan territory and divided it among each man according to his needs. Similarly each class president presides over meetings when it is necessary to decide questions concerning the class. The class officers are chosen each year by nominations from each class at its first meeting every year.

The Toiseach holds the next highest honor in the clan. Like the vice-president of the classes, he presides over the entire clan during the absence of the chief.

The treasurer of the class corresponds to the Tanist of the clans. He is nominated by the members of the clan and holds clan lands in trust for the members and their families.

The clan laws are founded in Celtic law and favor equality of right. Classes meetings are conducted on a democratic level, each member having a chance to vote on every issue.

The Tri-Tones, Donna Waters, Kathy Hubbard, and Mary Reid, give their last performance for the school at the senior banquet. Also entertaining at the banquet was Bette Rodgers with her version of the senior song, "May Each Day."

Graduation Ends Year

Graduation exercises at Will Rogers Auditorium on June 3 concluded the year for Highlanders. Seniors completed a whirlwind of activities which started May 1 with the banquet and included the picnic, senior day program, and baccalaureate and graduation services. A ring-turning ceremony and an all-night party were included but were not sponsored by the school.

The Clan staff has sought to build a book which would in a special way reflect Eastern Hills—1965. We have endeavored to make this an annual enjoyed not only by seniors but the entire student body.

The Clan Staff

After the banquet, the Arlington Heights stage band played for the dance, which was the last dance of the senior year.

One of the highlights of the senior activities was the picnic at Camp Carter. Here some of the seniors admire the beautiful scenery around the camp.
